MONDAY MAY 24.

The democrats think the president is booming the Folsom family more than he is the democratic party.

New York Tribune:—Senator Fair wants to have the Apaches put on a desert island in the Pacific. Put the anarchists on the same island and solve two problems at once.

The late strikes demonstrate the fact that this is a poor time as well as a poor country, in which to press the demand of ten hours' pay for eight hours' work.

The democratic papers are doing a good deal of grumbling because of the inaction of the democratic congress. If the democratic papers had learned anything from experience, they would not be disappointed in the present congress.

The wholesale and retail dealers in weather prophecies, do not seem to be prospering. The weather doesn't accomodate itself to their way of prophesying. It seems that summer has come around the same as usual, although the weather prophets said it wouldn't.

Ex-President Arthur is largely having the experience that Mr. Tilden has had. The newspapers have him in all sorts of conditions in a week. One day he is improving rapidly, and the next he is weak and fast sinking. The latest, says he is able to walk about, through Central Park, and eat good dinners.

The Louisville Courier-Journal says that if the democrats in congress do not secure the passage of the tariff bill the party will be disgraced, and the country will once more have to choose between two evils" at the next presidential election. Well, the democrats in congress will not pass a tariff bill, and so according to a high democratic authority, the democrats will be disgraced and the democratic candidate in 1888 will be defeated.

A suggestion from the State Journal: "On the 4th of July, 1836, the territorial government of Wisconsin was organized with Henry Dodge as governer. The semi-centennial anniversary of that important historical event will occur this year, and it is fitting that it should be properly celebrated at the capital by the people of the state. The State Journal would suggest a meeting of prominent citizens and the formation of proper committees. The work of preparation should be at once undertaken, if at all, for the formal observance of the founding of the territory should be of a character adequate to the occasion, and if orators are engaged they should have time to prepare their addresses."

Thus sadly moans the Louisville Commercial: "It appears that if the people who elected the sitting president were honest in their demand for a change from republican methods, they must be disappointed for a long time to come. It is not probable that Congress, even if both branches should soon pass into democratic control, will go further than the president in undoing the policy of government under which the government now exists. What is the matter with the party, that it so clearly neglects its pledges to the people?" The pledges to the people were simply catch-vote pledges, and meant nothing more. Whoever expects that reforms will come of the present administration will be left in disappointment.

Some loud-mouthed labor agitators went to work among the men employed in the lumber mills at Hayward, near Chippewa Falls, and on Friday the men were induced to strike. A dispatch to the Madison Democrat says the employes did not return to the mills on that day. It then leaked out that they had a meeting the evening before, where dissatisfaction was expressed by some of the men. Not one of them had made any complaint to the foreman; without a word they suddenly declined to put in an appearance. About eleven o'clock they formed in procession and started for the mill for the purpose of compelling the rest of the men to quit work. But they "reckoned without their host." Captain Clayton E. Rogers—an old soldier—is superintendent of the mill and yard, and informed them that they had a perfect right to quit work; that they would be paid off immediately, and other men given their places; but that not one of them should step into the mill, or interfere with any of the other workmen; if they did, it would be over his body. The result was that the strikers were paid off and told that they could work there no longer, and because of their foolishness in following labor agitators who are professional dead beats, they have lost good situations.

TEACHERS' EXAMINATION.

The teachers' examination for state certificates, for 1886, will be held at Madison, beginning June 30, at nine o'clock a. m., and will continue in session four days. The board will consist of Professor Albert Hardy, of La Crosse, President George S. Albee, of Oshkosh, and Professor J. W. Stearns, of Madison. The following circular has been issued by Robert Graham, state superintendent:

For the limited (five years') state certificate, examination will be had in the branches required for a first grade county certificate, with the addition of English literature and mental philosophy.

For the unlimited (life) state certificate, examination will be had in the branches required for limited state certificates, with the addition of botany, zoology, geology, political economy and general history.

Seventy per cent. is the minimum average standard for a limited certificate; and seventy-five for an unlimited.

Seventy per cent. is the minimum standard for each of first grade branches, and sixty per cent. the minimum in English literature, mental philosophy, botany, zoology, political economy and general history.

The limited state certificate will require three terms of four months each of successful teaching. The unlimited seven terms of four months each.

Satisfactory testimonials of moral character will be required.

Applicants who fail in any of the branches as required, may for limited certificate, present themselves, once in one year, for re-examination; and for the unlimited, once within two years after first examination.

In those branches in which they have passed, no re-examination will be required.

Examination in branches additional to those requiren for a limited certificate will be taken up on the third day—Friday, July 2d.

The evenings of the first three days will be devoted to oral examinations in the following branches: Reading, Mental Arithmetic, Grammar, U. S. History' Physiology, Geography, Mental Philosophy, Physics.

All persons who hold a limited state certificate or its equivalent may, during the validity of that certificate, receive a full life certificate on passing a satisfactory examination in the branches prescribed for such certificate which are not fully covered by the one held.

In examination upon any branch drawing may, in Physiology, Physics, Botany and Zoology, will be required to the extent of correctly and creditably represent the objects described.

As a guide to such as may desire to review the following branches before examination, or are making original preparation in these studies, the following suggestions are made: Physics—Gage, or an equivalent; Zoology—Harbison, or an equivalent; General History—Fyfe's Greece, Creighton's Rome, and Myer's Medioval and Modern History; English Literature—the selections from Shakespeare, Addison, Scott, Byron' Bryant, Macaulay, Emerson, Longfellow contained in "Swinton's Classic English Reader," and for historic and literary criticism, the Literary Primer by Stopford Brooke (the former published by I. P. B. & Co., and the latter by D. Appleton & Co.)

Stationery needed will be furnished by the Board.

The attention of all persons purposing to become principals of free high schools in Wisconsin, and who are required by law to pass special examinations to qualify them for teaching in such high schools, is especially called to time and place of holding this examination.

THE ARENA OF MUSCLE.

Review of Base Ball Games—Feats of Horseflesh—Field Notes.

A review of the base ball playing for last week shows that Chicago gained one game on its lively competitor, Detroit, the cause being a postponed game won. Detroit still heads the league, however, she having two games to the better of Chicago. The schedule stands: Detroit—games won 16, games lost 3; Chicago—won 14, lost 2; New York—won 10, lost 7; St. Louis—won 9, lost 10; Philadelphia—won 6, lost 9; Boston—won 5, lost 12; Kansas City—won 3, lost 9; Washington—won 3, lost 12.

The week's work of the American association leaves the clubs as follows: St. Louis—games won 19, games lost 10; Athletic—won 15, lost 10; Brooklyn—won 13, lost 10; Cincinnati—won 13, lost 16; Pittsburg—won 15, lost 13; Baltimore—won 12, lost 12; Louisville—won 11, lost 16; Metropolitans—won 7, lost 16.

Saturday's league games were as follows: At Chicago—Philadelphia 5, Chicago 9; at St. Louis—New York 6, St. Louis 3; at Kansas City—Boston 1, Kansas City 9; at Detroit—Washington 3, Detroit 13.

American association Saturday: At Baltimore—Louisville 2, Baltimore 1; at Philadelphia—Athletic 8, Cincinnati 4; at Staten Island—Pittsburg 5, Metropolitan 4; at Brooklyn—St. Louis 5, Brooklyn 3. Sunday's association game: At Brooklyn—St. Louis 12, Brooklyn 13—ten innings.

Races at Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, KY., May 24.—Saturday's races were run as follows: Ascender, 1¼ miles; Bravot second; Lucky B. 1¼ miles, Pinka second; Phil Lee, 1 mile, Warrington second; Enchantress, ¾ mile, Schillie P., second; Logan, 1¼ miles, Myrtle, second.

Sporting Notes.

William Muldoon attempted to throw the Jap Matsada three times in one hour at Minneapolis Saturday evening, but after using up 21 minutes throwing him twice gave up the task.

Three thousand spectators watched a 25 miles race at Fleetwood Beach, N. Y., Saturday between C. M. Anderson of California, and John Murphy of New York. Eight horses were used by each man, to change every mile, Anderson won the race by two lengths; time 55 minutes.

Jerome park race meeting begins Tuesday and Latonia Thursday.

Make Haste to Defend Yourself

If you live in a locality where malaria is prevalent, with a preventive that experience indicates as the most reliable of medical safeguards—Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Entirely free from the objections—and they are valid ones—which attach to the mineral alkaloid quinine, it is far more effective, and its effects are not evanescent, but lasting, unlike those of the drug. There are portions of land and none more beautiful and more fertile—which at no season of the year are entirely exempt from the malarial scourage. In such regions Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has undergone a continuous test for the past thirty years, with results which have established its reputation beyond all cavil as a special defense against every form of malarial disease. For biliousness, also, it is an acknowledged specific, and it is a potent remedy for constipation, dyspepsia, rheumatism and an impoverished condition of the blood.

DURBIN WARD DEAD.

THE OLD SOLDIER AND POLITICIAN JOINES THE MAJORITY.

A Reminiscence of Chicamauga—Sketch of His Career—Dio Lewis To Be Cremated—A Prominent Illinoisan Passes Away—Demise of Von Ranke, the Historian.

LEBANON, Ohio, May 24.—Gen. Durbin Ward died at 2:45 o'clock p. m. Saturday, aged over 67 years. He had been sick for some weeks with acute rheumatism, suffered a relapse on Monday, and became unconscious early on Friday.

Durbin Ward was born in Augusta, Ky., February 11, 1819, of English and Welsh stock. His father and grandfather both fought in the war of 1812-15, so that he inherited soldierly instincts and was a fighting patriot. He lived in Fayette county, Indiana, but received a finish to his common-school education in the Miami university, Oxford, while supporting himself by his own exertions.

He studied law under Judge Smith, and Tom Corwin and finally became law partner of the latter for about three years. His home was always in Lebanon. He served six years as prosecuting attorney of Warren county. He took a hand at politics all along but abandoned the Whig for the Democratic party in 1835. He was beaten for congress in 1836. In 1838 he was again on that ticket, this time as a candidate for attorney general, and was prominently mentioned in connection with a candidacy.

In 1860 he supported Douglas in the Charleston and Baltimore conventions. At the breaking out of the war he enlisted as a private, but soon became major of the Seventeenth Ohio, and rose to colonel and brevet brigadier general, serving mostly under Gen. Thomas. At Chicamauga he was asked in the attempt to storm a position he was holding what sort of a time he was having. He answered, "I can hold it, but just now its the belly of hell." In that fight his left arm was permanently disabled and he was mustered out, but when he recovered he had the order revoked and went through the Atlanta campaign with his arm in a sling. After the war he opened a law office in Washington, he was again nominated for congress in the Third Ohio district, but was defeated by Gen. Robert C. Schenck. From 1866 to 1869 he served as United States district attorney for the southern district of Ohio.

For twenty years Gen. Ward has had an office in Cincinnati, and practiced mostly in the Cincinnati courts, though he lived at Lebanon. Although a good lawyer, he was apt to be careless in the preparation of his cases, and only when he had a long case that required study did he come out at his best. His practice was mostly in railroad cases. Originally a Whig, he has been a Democrat for thirty years. His stalwart party devotion in the face of defeat won him the title of "wheel-horse of the Ohio Democracy." He was several times a candidate for governor, was Payne's opponent for the caucus nomination to the senate, and was well mentioned for the vice presidency, just before the last presidential convention. He could always be depended on by his party.

He was married in 1865 to Miss Harriet Probosco, but had no children.

Other Notable Deaths.

NEW YORK, May 24.—Stephen Pearl Andrews, who died in this city Friday evening at the residence of his son, Dr. Charles L. Andrews, 201 East Forty-fourth street, was a man of remarkable attainments, who had for fifty years devoted himself to the elaboration of the idea that there is a unity of the sciences or a science of the universe through which the operation of all natural laws may be determined. This he claimed to have discovered. He was one of the founders of the anti-slavery movement, and was father in this country of the present phonographic reportorial system. Mr. Andrews was a native of Templeton, Mass., where he was born March 22, 1812.

CHICAGO, May 24.—P. L. Cable, formerly president of the Rock Island & Peoria Railroad company and a prominent stockholder of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad, died Friday evening at 9:30 at San Antonio, Tex. He was 68 years of age, and had been ailing for some time past, which compelled him to retire from active business several months ago. His wealth is estimated at several millions. He leaves a wife and two children. He was the uncle of Mr. R. R. Cable, president of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad.

Dio Lewis To Be Cremated.

NEW YORK, May 24.—Dr. Dio Lewis, who died at Yonkers Friday, left the following directions in regard to the disposition of his remains. "Although I am averse to the somewhat unpleasant notoriety which as yet cremation involves, my very strong conviction is that it is the right disposition of the dead. I leave directions that my body shall be cremated, and that the ashes shall not be put into an urn, but in the earth, over which my wife may lovingly plant forget-me-nots." The incineration of the remains will take place on Monday at Fresh Pond, L. I.

Death of Von Ranke, the Historian.

BERLIN, May 24.—Professor Leopold Von Ranke, the historian, died Sunday in the 91st year of his age.

ATTEMPTS TO POISON A FAMILY.

Arsenic Put In a Cincinnati Policeman's Milk Bucket.

CINCINNATI, May 24.—A dastardly attempt was made to kill the family of Policeman John H. Gollort, Sunday morning, by placing arsenic in the milk bucket left for the dairyman on his early rounds. The family consists of Gollort, his wife, two boys, aged 18 and 17 respectively, a girl 13, and a 7 month's infant. All had partaken of the milk except the eldest boy and infant, and were deathly sick when the physician arrived at the house. The usual remedies were administered, and Sunday evening they were all thought to be out of danger. There is some mystery surrounding the case. Considerable solicitude is felt as to the whereabouts of the eldest son, who left the house while the family were at breakfast. It is not known whether he partook of the poison as did the others. He has not been found yet, although officers are looking for him. Owing to the condition of the victims no explanation can be obtained as to whether any one had an interest in killing the family.

The American Opera.

CHICAGO, May 24.—This city is to be given an opportunity to pass judgment on the "American Opera company," the result of the enterprise of a corporation of music-loving New Yorkers, which opens Monday night at McVickers theatre in "Lohengrin," singing this master piece of Wagner in the English language and with American artists in most of the leading rolls. The chorus and ballet is purely American also, and have been trained from the "raw material." All the appartments are most complete and declared to be equal to anything seen on any European stage. Such opera in Europe is supported by the government. In this country the government of the United States being the people, some of them have furnished bravery, and the results are an experiment that has already advanced beyond that stage and shown that there is no necessity for this great republic to go abroad for talent operatic. So say the critics. "Lakme," "Orpheus and Eurydice" and "Merry Wives of Windsor" are on the list for the season in this city. Mrs. Jeannette M. Thurber, of New York, to whose energy the success of the enterprise is largely due is here and says the scheme involves the establishment of auxiliary organizations in all the principal cities, the object being to fix American opera upon a permanent basis. Auxiliaries have already been established in Boston, Philadelphia, Washington, Baltimore and St. Louis. Mrs. Thurber is enthusiastic on the establishment of her onterprise.

ON A SUBJECT THAT IS WORRYING THE STATE DEPARTMENT.

Statement of the Reasons Why New England Fishermen Don't Want Another Fisheries Commission—Retaliatory Legislation the Thing Needed—Blaine Wants a Vigorous Policy.

PORTLAND, Me., May 24.—The view taken of the whole fisheries matter by owners of fishing vessels and others in this city is expressed in the following statement prepared by Mr. O. B. Whitton, secretary of the Portland fishing exchange: The question is asked: Why is it that the American fishermen protest against the appointment of an international commission to treat with Canada in regard to the fisheries? The fishing interest for the last twelve years has suffered very materially, struggling under the disadvantage occasioned by the treaty entered into by our country with Great Britain, whereby the United States paid the English government $5,500,000, and remitted in duties nearly as much more, thus building up a large business in the provinces and crippling our own American industry. "A burnt child dread the fire." We are fearful if another commission is appointed that it will only be a repetition of the last treaty, as in nearly all matters of diplomacy it seems as though American interests are the ones to be sacrificed. What call is there for an international commission? What business matter to be adjusted? Their right to hold and protect their fishing-ground within three miles of the shore is already conceded, and there is no fear that the right will be disregarded by American fishermen. The question of trade between two nations is regulated and directed by national law. Does it require an international commission to decide this? The question of its right to seize, hold, and confiscate American vessels most certainly does not require an international commission at this time, for the Canadian government has already seized and is now holding two American fishermen, and if Great Britain declares that right and upholds the Dominion government in the exercise of those rights all that we ask of our government is to pass at once retaliatory laws and it will bring the Canadian government to a realizing sense of their position. * * * But the bait question, with all the importance attached to it by the Canadian government, is greatly in our favor, for what could Nova Scotia do in the fisheries if they could not depend upon the state of Maine for their bait? At the present time the schooner Avill of Lockport is here loading with bait for Nova Scotia and probably 10,000 barrels will be shipped to the provinces from this state during the season. * * * We can see no occasion that calls this government to be at the expense of appointing any commission to treat with Canada so far as fishing is concerned. If the Canadian government declare nonintercourse let our government be as speedy in retaliating, and if they refuse to grant us the privilege of buying bait and other hospitalities attendant to their ports, let us do likewise. * * * The fishery of New England is not a sectional matter; it is a large industry, and its magnitude has not been fully comprehended by our own country. The New England fisheries have nearly $33,000,000 invested, and according to the last statistics the production amounted to fully $8,046,953, giving employment to 135,420 persons, 535,701 persons being dependent upon the business. We want no reciprocity with the Dominion of Canada regarding the fisheries; an open, free market for their fish means utter destruction to the American fisheries and injustice to the fishermen.

A telegram from Bar Harbor represents Hon. James G. Blaine as advocating a determined policy on the part of the United States. He holds that the United States should demand—"I say demand"—of England a return to the treaty of 1783. Mr. Blaine's view is that this treaty was not subject to abrogation as it was "not between two mutually acknowledged nations, but between two portions of the same country" gave birth to a nation and fixed its status; therefore it could not be abrogated unless this nation was wiped out. Mr. Blaine says there need be no talk of war—that a vigorous policy on the part of the United States would bring about a final settlement of the question on our own terms.

Bills That Will Cause Debate.

WASHINGTON CITY, May 24.—The "rider" to the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill relating to the civil service commission may open up in the house the whole question of civil service reform—its successes, and faults. The "rider" requires the commission to certify or send to an officer of the government calling for names for appointment the whole list of eligibles to the position to be filled instead of, as at present, certifying but four or five applicants who have best passed examination. Should the broad question be opened, the debate may consume all this week. The bankruptcy bill, it is universally believed, is destined to extraordinary scrutiny in the senate and to provoke much talk, so that it may be unfinished business weeks hence.

Fell in Love with the Flower Girl.

BOSTON, May 24.—Hon. J. D. Long, the popular ex-governor and present congressman, who has been a widower some two years, emerged Saturday from that condition by marrying Miss Agnes Pierce, a teacher in the high school at Hingham. Miss Pierce is the daughter of a clergyman, now deceased, and is but 26 years of age, while the genial ex-governor rejoices in 48. She owes her good fortune to having donned a flower-girl's costume at a masquerade party given in Hingman last winter. It was a case at sight. At the wedding, which took place at Attleboro Saturday, there were but few guests, but the congratulatory messages which the governor and his lady have received have been very many.

Will Try to Compromise on Nine Hours.

WASHINGTON CITY, May 24.—The mechanics' strike in this city continues. It is understood that the "bosses" have determined to make an effort during this week to resume work on a basis of nine hours per day; and if the men will not work nine hours to engage labor outside of District of Columbia. On account of the strike, building in the city is nearly at a standstill.

FOUND THIRTY BOMBS.

STARTLING DISCOVERY OF THE "RESOURCES OF CIVILIZATION,"

That Were to Have Had a Hand in the Chicago Anarchist Propaganda—Capt. Schaack Tells the Grand Jury What He Knows About a Conspiracy.

CHICAGO, May 24.—Two little boys while at play Sunday afternoon found secreted under the sidewalk, near the corner of Robey street, and Bloomingdale road, thirty shells, loaded with dynamite, two boxes of detonators and four coils of fuse. The detonators and fuse, were from Alfred Nabel, 140 West George street, Glasgow Scotland. The bombs also, were of the finest workmanship. It is believed that the explosives may have been the property of Alfred Kroegor, who in resisting arrest, shot officer Madden, through the lungs, and was in turn fatally shot by the officer. The fact that his trunk was removed from his boarding-house and secreted by his friends, is ground for this belief.

It is also intimated that the bombs may have been the property of Michael Schwab, 119 North Paulina street, now under arrest as one of the leaders of the anarchists.

Saturday Capt. Schaack, of the police force, testified before the grand jury. His testimony was listened to with intense interest, especially the following:

"I think," said Schaack, "that I have got to the bottom of this business. In a couple of days I will have it all. But I want a little more time. Then I can prove without a doubt that this anarchist conspiracy has existed here for years. There are two divisions of it. One is an agitating section. Money is set apart for its purpose. This is called the socialist section. Besides this there is an armed party, and anarchist section These drill and are trained in the use of explosives. Pamphlets explaining how dynamite bombs are made, how they are projected and exploded, are circulated among them. They practice or experiment in accordance with the instructions of the pamphlets. I will produce witnesses to prove all this. The agitating section of the anarchist party and the military or bomb-throwing section so fit into one another that it is difficult to tell where one commences and the other ends.

"I think I can also prove," Capt. Schaack went on, "that there was a well-laid plan to sack and burn districts in Chicago May 4. It would have been carried out but that the anarchists lacked nerve and were unprepared for the vigorous action of the police. Men were told off to set fire to certain houses in the northwestern portion of the city, and others were told off to throw bombs into the police stations, while others were to use bombs at the meeting if the police attempted to disperse it. I think I can connect every man of the socialists now in jail with this. The houses to be burned in the northwestern section of the city were to be selected indiscriminately. The purpose of the burning was to attract the attention of the police to that section, and to draw them away from the main points of attack, the haymarket square and the police stations. The early dispersal of the crowd in the square, the premature throwing of the bomb, for it was premature, and the determined resistance of the police frightened the would-be incendiaries and those who were to attack the police barracks in detail."

MOST HAS TO MOVE ON.

Failure of His Men to Break Up a Meeting of Law-and-Order Bohemians.

NEW YORK, May 24.—Sunday afternoon an anti-Anarchist association of Bohemians, 500 strong, met in National hall, Fifth street. Speeches denouncing Herr Most and his followers and the recent anarchist movement in this city, Chicago and other places were made. During the progress of the meeting a number of Most's followers entered the hall and tried to break up the meeting. A strong body of police came to the rescue and ejected the disturbers. After a number of speeches had been made resolutions were adopted denouncing the Chicago anarchists and declaring it to be the determination of the association to obey and defend the laws that protect them, and pledging themselves to do all in their power to route out Most and his followers and all anarchists that may show themselves in this vicinity.

At the close of the meeting it was learned that Most and a number of his followers were in a saloon close by drinking beer. The police entered the saloon, drove Most and his gang out and arrested the proprietor of the place for violating the excise law.

WASHINGTON CITY, May 24.—Saturday the house spent most of the day debating the free ship bill, and Dunn of Arkansas, made a vigorous argument in its favor. Dingley of Maine, spoke against it. The bill permits citizens of the United States to purchase ships in the cheapest market, and sail them under the American flag. The bill extending for two years the time in which the St. Louis & San Francisco railway may complete its road through the Choctaw and Chickasaw Indian reservation was passed, and the Reagan inter-state commerce bill reported as a substitute for the Cullom bill. The senate amendments to the urgent deficiency bill were non-concurred in, and the house adjourned until Monday. The senate was not in session.

Arthur Apparently Getting Well.

NEW YORK, May 24.—Ex-President Arthur took another long drive in the park Saturday with his daughter and one of his intimate friends from Washington. He expressed himself when he returned that he felt almost as strong as he ever did, and that a continuance of the warm pleasant days when he can go out will bring him around all right in a little while. Dr. Peters is pleased to report the abatement of all the symptoms in Gen. Arthur's case except the irritability of the stomach which, however, is not particularly annoying.

THE RUSSIAN CZAR THE MYSTERY OF EUROPEAN AFFAIRS.

Believed To Be at Present Engaged in Fomenting Insurrection in Roumelia—Churchill and Labouchere on the Home Rule Difficulty — More Fierce Greek Fighting Reported.

LONDON, May 24.—The Sphinx of Europe just now is the Czar of Russia. He is alike a mystery and a terror to every one of the crowned heads, except perhaps that of King George of Greece. Millions of pounds could be made by skilful speculators if they could but get an authorized statement of his intentions for the next thirty days. But he sits serene and silent at the head of the largest army now afield and grimly refuses either to act himself or to seek the alliance of any other power. The current explanation in diplomatic circles is as follows. The czar massed his army at Odessa and in the Crimea at time when the affairs of Bulgaria applied desperate. He endeavored to foment a rebellion in Eastern Roumelia against Prince Alexander, but failed. If a formidable revolution had broken out he would have had an excuse to invade the country, ostensibly to secure peace, but no one can doubt that his nominal protectorate over Roumelia and Bulgaria would soon be changed to an actual rulership over both countries. This scheme fell through because the other powers united in letting the Bulgarian question drop.

The most probable explanation of the present delay of the czar is that he is awaiting until his secret agents, who are known to be swarming in eastern Roumelia, have accomplished something definite in the way of an uprising against Prince Alexander.

SERIOUS FIGHTING REPORTED.

Turks and Greeks at It Again—Results of Friday's Conflict.

LONDON, May 24.—An Athen's dispatch, dated 7 p. m. Saturday, says: "Dispatches just received report serious fighting on the frontier. Prime Minister Tricoupis is at the telegraph office exchanging communications with the Greek generals at the front."

The Greeks claim that during the frontier engagements of Friday they captured two positions from the Turks, 20,000 cartridges, and three prisoners. The commander of the Turkish troops claims that the firing of his men was due to a mistake, and that he has given assurances that Turkey's intentions are pacific. The Turkish general inquired of the Greek commander why his troops were fighting. The latter replied that it was because the Turks had first attacked them. Assurances were exchanged by the commandants that the fighting would not be resumed. They will also exchange protocols showing that the firing was the result of mutual misunderstanding.

It is definitly stated on the authority of members of the government that election writs are being prepared in anticipation of the dissolution of parliament after the necessary vote shall have been taken on the home rule bill.

A dispatch from Athens, Greece, says a truce was effected at noon Sunday, and there has been no fighting since that time. The casualties are heavy on both sides. An interview between the Turkish and Greek commanders has been arranged for 4 o'clock Monday morning, when an endeavor will be made to arrange an armistice.

CHURCHILL'S EXPLANATION.

Not in Favor of an Ulster Rebellion, but Would Justify It—Labouchere's Views.

LONDON, May 24.—Lord Randolph Churchill has written to Gladstone, saying:

"I regret that I was absent from the house of commons during the delivery of your speech of May 21. From the printed reports of the speech I observed that you misunderstood the meaning of a recent remark of mine in regard to the Ulster Loyalists. I beg respectfully to say that you misstated my doctrine. My opinion is that the inevitable result of establishing a parliament in Ireland such as your government proposes would be civil war, and it is harmonious with the opinions expressed by an overwhelming majority of the public men in England competent to give judgment, and every person in Ireland of experience, position and respectability. Moreover, it is the unanimous and immovable conviction of the Protestant community in Ulster.

"From my close examination of the position let me say in conclusion that the Ulster Loyalists would be justified in contending against such a parliament in Dublin, composed mainly of national leagues, who in the guise of a parliament, would be more tyrannical than in the past. I do not hesitate to say that should their fears be realized the Loyalists would be justified in resisting by force of arms. I never urged resistance except in a constitutional manner and would make any sacrifice to prevent the overstepping of the line."

Labouchere Tries to Heal the Breach.

LONDON, May 24.—Labouchere writes to The Daily News that not a single Whig or Liberal who has announced his intention to vote against the home rule bill is indorsed by any portion of his constituent. Approvers of the principle of the bill should realize that they are not justified in asking concessions which, if made, would not be granted to any faction of Liberals, but to gentlemen in antagonism to their party, to Gladstone, and to their own electors Labouchere estimates that forty of the seceders favor the bill, but are influenced by Chamberlain and fear to meet Mr. Gladstone frankly half way and endeavor to remove their objections.

GRAND AND TERRIBLE SPECTACLE.

Streams of Lava From Etna Reach Nicolosi—Earthquake Shocks.

LONDON, May 24.—The advices received here from Catana concerning the eruption of Mount Etna give terrible accounts of the devastation caused by it. They say that it is the greatest eruption known in centuries, and that it is increasing in intensity and volume every day. The stream of lava which is pouring down the mountain's side has reached the town of Nicolosi, and the inhabitants have fled in dismay, leaving their town and its contents to the destructive flood. At Belpasso the lava stream is 670 feet wide and swallows everything by its great mass. It was completely covered with chestnut woods on the slope of the mountain. Constant shocks of earthquake are felt and thunderous subterranean noises accompany the incessant and increasing shower and flood of volcanic matter. Many dwellings have been totally destroyed and people made homeless. Crowds are watching the spectacle night and day. It is described as a grand and tremendous sight. The authorities, both civil and ecclesiastic, are active among the people and are doing their best to calm them and to prevent the panic which so terrible a scene is likely to occasion.

Since the riots of Chicago, the adjutant general of Illinois has received applications from 209 towns to muster militia companies.

Make Haste to Defend Yourself

If you live in a locality where malaria is prevalent, with a preventive that experience indicates as the most reliable of medical safeguards—Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Entirely free from the objections—and they are valid ones—which attach to the mineral alkaloid quinine, it is far more effective, and its effects are not evanescent, but lasting, unlike those of the drug. There are portions of land and none more beautiful and more fertile—which at no season of the year are entirely exempt from the malarial scourage. In such regions Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has undergone a continuous test for the past thirty years, with results which have established its reputation beyond all cavil as a special defense against every form of malarial disease. For biliousness, also, it is an acknowledged specific, and it is a potent remedy for constipation, dyspepsia, rheumatism and an impoverished condition of the blood.

The reason why Acker's Blood Elixir is warranted, is because it is the best Blood Preparation known. It will positively cure all Blood Diseases, purifies the whole system, and thoroughly builds up the constitution. Remember, we guarantee it.

Insanity is on the increase. Statistics show this. Many cases are brought on by overwork, anxiety, excitement, metal trouble and nervous prostration; it is also inherited. Joke on Senator Dawes.

WASHINGTON CITY, May 24.—The Baltimore Sun is responsible for the following story. Senator Chace, of Rhode Island, was collecting contributions for a testimonial to Secretary McCook, who is soon to be married, and sat down by Senator Dawes remarking that "McCook is to be married, and I think it will be a nice thing for us to contribute a little testimonial to him." As Senator Dawes did not respond Chace left him and in a few minutes Dawes walked over to Chace's colleague, Aldrich, and said: "Aldrich, what is the matter with Chace? He came to me just now and said his cook was going to be married and he wanted me to give something for a wedding present. I should like to know what the d—l I have to do with his cook."

Knelt Down Before a Locomotive.

BOSTON, May 24.—At 7:30 Saturday morning Claudius B. Patten, cashier of the State National bank, was instantly killed by an outward-bound train on the Old Colony railroad at Savin Hill while walking on the track to the railroad station. Those who witnessed the affair say that Patten deliberately committed suicide. He heard the train coming and deliberately kneeled down before it. He had been suffering from nervous prostration, and had developed symptoms of insanity. His body was terribly mangled, and the business community here was intensely shocked at the announcement of the suicide.

Two Criminal Sensations Spoiled.

WHEELING, W. Va., May 24.—The sensational accounts telegraphed from this city last week of a triple murder and suicide in Lincoln county and of a double murder near Point Pleasant, were both made out of whole cloth, having no other foundation than the imagination of a hanger on in newspaper circles in this city. The wide publication given the alleged tragedies has created a great deal of feeling throughout the lower portion of the state.

WHEN DOES OLD AGE BEGIN?

When does old age begin? At forty-five, it is said, the amount of combustion which keeps the furnace of the human body in blast commences to decrease and diminishes until three-score years and ten, more or less, when the fires are drawn and the flickering flame dies out. That is the physiological way of looking at it. But some men are old before they are out of their teens, while others apparently never grow old, though they live to be centenarians. The poet's way of looking at it is the best:

"Call him not old whose visionary brain
Holds o'er the past its undivided reign.
For him in vain the envious seasons roll
Who bears eternal summer in his soul."

This at least seems to be the way in which David Littell, of Sumner, Ia., looks at life, for though now in his eightieth year he has taken a new lease on life and is apparently determined to hold on to it. Athlophoros did it for him and he acknowledges his debt to it in terms of enthusiasm. Mr. Littell tells his own story:

"I was just seventy-seven and had been afflicted with rheumatism three years and eight months. I had lost one-third of my weight and could not walk, but shuffled along with crutches. Sleep had deserted me, my nerves were all shattered, and there was no strength in my hands, wrists, knees or feet. I could not sit down or get up out of a chair without help, and oh! such pain, worse at night than in the day. There was neither sleep nor rest, and the outlook was painful in the extreme.

"But thanks be to God and Brother Inskip for sending me a paper containing a notice of the cures made by Athlophoros and thanks be to you for sending me a bottle. It appears to me the hand of God is in it all the way, and if you did not hear me shout why then I did not shout loud enough, that is all. The medicine arrived one Saturday night after I had gone to bed. In the morning my son prepared me a dose of two teaspoonfuls in milk. I took it and felt it at once all over. After that I took but one teaspoonful at a time until I had finished the bottle. How did it act? Why, like a charm. On Monday morning I rose, dressed, and walked out into the kitchen without crutches or cane and wished them all a happy New Year.

"My pain is all gone and I rest well. My son, seeing such a great change in me, wrote for ten bottles in order, as he says, to make a permanent cure of it. It is all more like a dream than reality. I have written to four of my friends who are afflicted with rheumatism about the great medicine and I shall write to others, and in this way try to pay the debt of gratitude.

"Some fourteen months ago," says A. Hayward, of Burlington, Ia., "I was attacked with inflammatory rheumatism. I tried a dozen different kinds of medicine said to cure rheumatism, but to no purpose. Finally, I procured a bottle of Athlophoros. After using the bottle it did me so much good that I bought another, but did not have to use more than a third of the second bottle before I was entirely cured. From that time up to the present I have never had anything like rheumatic pains, and I thank Athlophoros for the cure."

Thomas McCue, Bush's block, Dubuque, Ia., whose wife was cured by Athlophoros of a terrible case of rheumatism, declares it was "truly a miracle in my wife's case."

If you cannot get Athlophoros of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. Athlophoros Co., 112 Wall Street, New York

WOMAN AND HOME.

THE RESPECTIVE RIGHTS OF HUSBAND, WIFE AND CHILD.

There can be no place where certain restraints and restrictions are more necessary than the narrow, often jarring, confines of a home; there is no place where people feel more unrestrained, unrestricted. Many a young couple, new to the delight of being one as well as a couple, find exquisite bliss in making that unity so complete that all either has, in mind or matter, belongs to both. But that system won't work! No two people, living together, can by any possibility preserve their own happiness, to say nothing of their friends', without something of reserve; enough to keep, at least, their self-respect, enough to make both as polite to each as in the days of their wooing.

I have emphasized that word polite. Why is it so many people keep all their fine manners for the outer world and have none left for home? Why do mothers train their little ones in every way but example, to be always courteous and then wonder that they are sometimes rude? If you fail to say as surely as to their elders, "thank you," "I beg your pardon," or, "if you please," to a child, so certain will that ready little wit take on the conviction that politeness is not for every day use nor for home consumption. No husband has a right to read his wife's letters, in justice to the friends who wrote them, and the woman who reads. No wife has a right to pour her husband's coffee with her bang entwisted in last night's curl papers. No parent has a right to give away a child's playthings without that child's consent. I hate this everlasting, greedy prating of one's "due," but these are instances by the way of the injustice ruling our good housekeeping.

For you see, discourtesy is the antithesis of justice; not that all injustice is rudeness, but all rudeness is injustice. Why should we show our love by our impoliteness? I remember once, when my sister and I were taking our departure, after a call upon two other sisters, we jostled against one another at the door. Upon our mingled apologies one of the girls broke with a laugh: "Do you do that to each other?" she cried, "I should never think of begging Lily's pardon!"

Yet they were well-mannered young persons, too; truly gentlewomen in their relations to the world. Some one says:

We have careful thought for the stranger
And smiles for the some time guest,
Yet we vary our own, with look and tone,
Though we love our own the best.

I spoke of reserve as a part of politeness. A parent can not impart a higher sense of delicacy and honor more surely than by a respect for each child's individuality as profound as for an equal. I have never forgotten an incident of my childhood. I was away from home for a few days, and on my return the younger ones fell on me at once. Letters had come from two absent brothers, they said, and addressed to me; so to all their entreaties to open them our mother had said no one could do that but myself, and they thrust the envelopes in my hand. Could a daily lecture have taught the precept in so sure a manner as that practice?—Oliva Lovell Wilson in Good Housekeeping.

The Decline of Home Politeness.

There is general complaint at home and abroad of the decline of politeness. Although part of the lament may be due to the time-honored feeling that "things are not now as they used to be," yet there is still good cause for the oft-heard moan. In America we lay, perhaps, too little stress upon the outward and visible signs of an inward grace. We think it enough that a person shall mean well, no matter how far short he may come of expressing his good intentions. There appears to be so great a rush to accomplish the daily round of business that little time, if any at all, is given to those acts of graceful courtesy, so trifling in themselves, yet which contribute greatly to reduce the friction of home and social life to a minimum. This living by the clock, this running for train or boat, leaves no margin for quiet stateliness in act and speech.

Children are too often allowed a latitude which formerly only was permitted to persons of mature years, and hold opinions upon matters far beyond their ken, expressing them freely in and out of season. This prevents them from having a becoming respect for their superiors in years and knowledge. It was delightfully refreshing to hear a celebrated physician say the other day: "In my opinion, whether a son be 4 or 40 years of age, so long as he lives under the same roof with his father he should defer to his parents' slightest wish. If this be not possible, he should make his abode elsewhere; but wherever he may be his father must be treated with due reverence."

Good manners are really the outcome of unselfish natures; ill manners are almost a synonym for selfishness. It may be said that it is impossible to change a person's nature, and nothing can be gained by talking. True, there can be no absolute bouleversement of this sort, but there may be so great a modification that unpleasant qualities will be rendered quite endurable. "Care killed a cat," says the old proverb, and it can also kill disagreeable manners. Apropos of this, a bright girl recently said to me: "You can educate anything in this world. Even unmanageable feet may be made tractable if you will only train them persistently, for many an ill-shapen foot is the result of carelessness. If feet are inclined to breadth and flatness, take pains as to how you walk; never allow the feet to touch the ground with force, and they will soon repay your care." It therefore only requires a little carefulness and sympathy for others to soften our manners and bring about that deference and courtesy which is so delightful in every-day life.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

What Father and Mother Thought.

The boys would have opened their eyes in great surprise had any one hinted that plain, quiet, methodical father had ever dreamed of adventures in far off and unexplored countries, or ever had any ambitions beyond his business and his home. But mother was thinking how he used to say: "After I get ourselves well fixed financially, I hope we may go and see something of the great world before we die; not in the conventional routes, but in new lands and among strange people—Siberia or Australia for example." "Ah me!" thought mother, last Sunday, "I fear heaven is nearer than those two countries." She remembered how he had confided to her, and how she had esteemed him as fully capable of carrying out his wish to enter some career of usefulness and honor in his country's service. "After I get everything on a sound financial basis, of course," he would always add. "His great services must come," she thought, "through the boys he is rearing."

She recalled another cherished hope, and that was the possession of a large and luxurious library, into which he could retire and read to his heart's content, for this dear old man of hers had been ever a student at heart. "His longed-for books have never come; we have never been able to make the home large enough to spare a room for books alone; and if there were a room we cannot afford the extra fire. Poor man! what reading he does must be after the children are asleep, for before, the chatter and the clatter, the piano playing, the dropping in of company, and all the incidents of a pleasant home evening makes studious reading impossible." All this the mother knew and felt. But the children could not, and will not until, in after years, in the light of their own experience, they shall trace their tears through old love letters and the pitiful ledgers, betraying years of struggle, the signs of father's costly sacrifice; and then they will cry out against themselves for not recognizing sooner what a grand old hero father was.

The father had his thought as he looked into the eyes looking at him across the table. "Give up, my wife, what more can you give up? Yours has been one long sacrifice, it seems to me." He remembered how glad he was when he made the discovery that the girl he was going to marry was fond of dainty table appointments, refined house furnishing and elegant attire. "And now," he thought with a pang of something like self-reproach, "in all this quarter century I have never bought my wife a watch, and only two silk dresses; and all the nice china she has ever had she inherited."—Cleveland Leader.

SHOULD BE CONCLUSIVE.

Dr. Pierce Says The President Has "Owned Up"—A Lady Who Should Be Gratified.

WASHINGTON CITY, May 24.—Sitting in the reception-room at the White house, adjoining that of the entrance to the library of the president Saturday, was the venerable Dr. Pierce of New York, a brother-in-law of the late Vice-President Hendricks. It was not long until the messenger announced to Dr. Pierce that the president would receive him. He soon disappeared beyond the portals leading to the executive chamber. A full half-hour elapsed before his return. There were two female acquaintances of the doctor in the reception-room who were awaiting him.

"It is a fact!" shouted Dr. Pierce, as he entered the reception-room, "The president is to be married!"

"What makes you think so?" Mr. Pierce was asked.

"He has just said so and I know he was talking the truth."

"Then you asked him the question?" continued The World's representative.

"I did, and he said it was to take place the 16th of June."

"I wish I could kiss him just once before he marries," said one of the women to whom the doctor was talking.

"If he had not told me so," said Dr. Pierce, "I would know he is to be married, anyhow. I have been married more than once and can tell when a man intends to take a wife."

It is stated by a friend of the president that rooms for a number of the Folsom family have been engaged at the Carrollton hotel, in Baltimore, from the 12th to the 14th prox. This is interpreted to mean that the relatives of the bride-elect are to stop in the Monumental city, where they will be joined by Mr. Cleveland, and from there go to Buffalo, where the wedding is to take place. On account of the death of the grandfather the wedding is to be in private.

THE KNIGHTS AT CLEVELAND.

Gathering of the Executive Committee—Position as to Non-Union Men.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, May 24.—All members of the Executive Board of the Knights of Labor not having arrived up to Sunday evening nothing of an executive nature has yet been done. Mr. Powderly spent Sunday very quietly at his hotel, and declined to make public his plans for the future. Mr. Turner, on being asked whether Martin Irons had been requested to attend the convention said: "No, Mr. Irons is not a delegate and we do not want him here." As the delegates arrive it becomes apparent that Mr. Powderly's executive ability is fully appreciated, and it is certain that he will leave Cleveland with the entire confidence of the order. Nothing in the way of organization will be effected until the tardy members of the Executive Board arrive.

A prominent Cleveland Knight speaking of the relation of the Knights to other labor organizations said: "The Knights of Labor are broader than the unions. For instance, if, in a shop of twenty-four men, twenty-three are members of the order and one is not, as long as the man who is outside receives the same pay as the others nothing is done to coerce him or the employers. He need not join the order. We invite members, but do not force any man to unite his lot with ours, and although he is not received as a brother no distinction is made other than fraternal feeling. On the other hand, if the same condition of affairs existed in a union shop the union men would force the non-unionists to join their order or they would strike."

The Profit In Gas.

WASHINGTON CITY, May 24.—The Washington gas company is under investigation by a senate committee, and Saturday the president McIlhenny admitted that within two years the company had paid two 50 per cent. dividends in addition to regular dividends of 50 per cent. each, amounting to $1,000,000, running up the stock to $2,000,000, and then a 40 per cent. dividend on $2,000,000, amounting to $800,000. These dividends, which were allotted to stockholders, were in addition to regular dividends.

How Miss Louisa M. Alcott Lives.

Speaking of Miss Louisa M. Alcott, a Boston correspondent says that "she is a woman of power, but with little polish or style, who fought manfully to get a hearing, which was granted her at last; but she has only written one important book, 'Little Women,' which touched the popular chord and coined her money and fame. To-day Miss Alcott supports her family comfortably on what has resulted directly and indirectly from that singularly successful 'Little Women.' Miss Alcott is living in a spacious, old-fashioned house in Louisburg square. She goes but little into society, her energies and time outside her literary work being devoted to her father, who is a paralytic. No woman receives better prices for her stories than Miss Alcott. She is emphatically a woman's woman. She does not object to men, but they don't interest her as women, for whom she has always been a warm champion. Miss Alcott is always well and tastefully dressed."

The Way to Clarify Soup.

Just before the soup boils the scum that has risen to the top during the process of heating should be carefully removed; a little cold water poured in will assist the particles that compose the scum to rise. After the soup has boiled it should be strained; this may be repeated, then if the soup is not as clear as you would like to have it, mix one egg and its broken shell with a teacupful of cold water, then to this add about a teacupful of the hot soup, then stir it all into the boiling soup; let it boil up well, then set the kettle upon the back part of the stove, and when somewhat cool strain it.—Philadelphia Call.

A Novel Feature in Investments

The whole country, after having undergone a period of depression is now asking itself, what business has least been affected and uninjured?

Such a business, industry or corporation that can make a better showing now than before the crisis, attracts the attention of capital, merits the confidence of investors, and is being eagerly sought for.

There is such a business, and it has heretofore been monopolized by English and Scotch capital until some three hundred millions have been invested in the Ranche and Cattle business of this great country.

Foremost amongst the strongest, richest and most successful American Companies stand the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York, which is now offering $500,000, First Mortgage six per cent 10-year bonds, for subscription at 90 cash, or at par, upon a novel installment feature which appeals to the farmer as well as the banker, the clerk and mechanic as well as the millionaire, and to all who desire to invest their savings at better rates of interest than any bank will allow.

This company issues certificates of indebtedness in one and five dollars, each representing an installment, and when the investor has purchased $50 of these certificates he becomes entitled to a $100 gold bond, First Mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which he can obtain upon presenting his certificates or forwarding them by letter to the company's office, at 145 Broadway, N. Y.

The remaining $50 due on the bond being payable to the company in monthly installments not exceeding $5.

The bond commences to draw interest on delivery the same as if fully paid. In addition to which the company give as a bonus, free, one fully paid up share of stock of the value of $25.

Those desiring to buy their bonds outright for cash can do so at 10 per cent discount in $100, $500 or $1,000 bonds and receive one, five or ten shares of stock free. The bonds are secured by property owned absolutely by the company, estimated to be worth $3,000,000, and this money received from sale of bonds will be invested in cattle, the income from which it is estimated will yield 30 per cent upon the stock after paying 6 per cent on the bonds.

Applications are being forwarded in great numbers daily, and all those who desire to subscribe should send at once for Prospectuses and full information to the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York.—The N. Y. Financier.

—Crystal Temple of Honor No. 32, will meet in regular session this evening—lodge room in the Judd block, North Main street.

—This afternoon there is a tobacco suit on trial before Justice Prichard. The firm of August Beck & Co. is the plaintiff and Peter Mooney and Charles Wolf are the defendants. The amount sued for is $20.

—Over two tons of strawberries were delivered in this city by the American Express company Saturday. A quart box of the berries weighs a little over a pound, so there were about thirty-two hundred boxes in all.

—The Prohibitionists are in session in one of the jury room at the court house this afternoon. The object of the meeting is to organize the county for the campaign next fall. Several prominent workers in the third party movement are in attendance, among them being Chairman Richmond of the State Temperance association.

—One day last week Mrs. Alice Smith South Main st., accidentally punctured her arm with a needle. Saturday night the wound became quite dangerous, her arm being inflamed. Yesterday the condition of Mrs. Smith became quite alarming. She is no better to-day, and her friends fear that she may not survive.

—About 9 o'clock Saturday night, lightning struck a building several miles south of the city. The fire attracted considerable attention in this city and some parties started out to it with buggies but gave up on account of the distance. There was another blaze in the same direction last evening, but no details could be obtained.

—Almost everything that has the legend "Knights of Labor" attached is popular, and this holds good in cigars as in everything else. The cigar with that name is having a great run in this city, as it well deserves to have, on account o its good quality. Sam Wyler, who is agent for it, reports that it goes ahead of anything of the sort.

—The Jackson street Methodist church was well filled both morning and evening. At the close of the morning service a number united with the church on probation. The pastor, Rev. Thomas Walker, is an earnest christian worker and under his judicious ministration the church is increasing in strength and usefulness.

—During the past week Detroit has taken a strong lead in the contest for the national league championship, Chicago holding second place. In the American association series, St. Louis still leads for the pennant, but is losing ground. In the Northwestern league, Duluth has first place, while the standing of the other clubs is unchanged.

—A report from Atlanta, Ga., to a local contemporary, says that Frank P. Gray, a leading lawyer, was shot in the west end by the town marshal. In speaking of it the Chicago News says: "Now if somebody will tell us what direction Mr. Gray was going at the time we can form some sort of an opinion where the shot took effect." The statement does seem a little indefinite.

—Miss A. Maranda King, of Evanston, Ill., a metaphysician of quite an extensive practice, has opened an office at the corner of Holmes and Cherry streets, in the fourth ward. Miss King has thoroughly tested the science of metaphysics in the treatment of her own case, and possesses faith as well as ability in the practice. See her card in another column.

—This afternoon about three o'clock the bolt dropped from one thill of a light wagon on East Milwaukee street, allowing the vehicle to swing in upon the horse's heels. A runaway resulted but before going far the frightened animal ran upon the side walk and two women who were in the wagon were thrown out with terrible force. They escaped very luckily, one only receiving a few bruises while the other was cut somewhat about the head.

—Beloit Free Press: The Salvation Army was egged near the corner of Broad and State streets, while on their parade last evening, and during the meeting eggs were thrown into the building, through the windows, and a lady soldier and a prominent citizen in the audience were hit. This is a serious business and egg and missle throwers will early be discovered and suffer the consequences.

—On Saturday evening a party of five gentlemen of this city, under the lead of Assistant Engineer Chas. Horn, went up to Lake Koshkonong on a fishing excursion. The party returned home at an early hour this morning. They had excellent luck, bringing home one hundred and twelve black bass and pike, some of the former weighing four pounds each. Hearing of the good luck of the party a number of others went up to the lake to-day to throw in their lines.

—Two or three weeks ago William Cunningham commenced action in Justice Wickham's court against Will Roseau and Will Stimms, two boys of the first ward, the charge being trespass. He claimed that the boys had taken boards from an out building of his on River street and had used them to build bonfires with. Late Saturday afternoon Justice Wickham rendered his decision finding for the plaintiff and ordering the boys to pay five dollars damages and costs amounting to about eight dollars —On Saturday evening Marshal Hogan visited the several saloons in this city, giving the proprietors notice that the law regarding the opening of saloons on Sunday would be rigidly enforced. The result was noticed on the streets yesterday, the order, with the exception of two or three places, being obeyed. One North Main street saloon keeper allowed a party to congregate in his saloon in the afternoon, during which time a little "mill" occurred; and an East Milwaukee street hotel keeper allowed his bar room to be opened, contrary to the provisions of his license. The marshal has made complaint against both offenders, and they will be given an opportunity to explain matters before the municipal court, and perhaps contribute a sum of money to the support of the city schools. Full particulars later.

—The boys that swarm around North River street near the race have been causing considerable trouble lately by their communistic ideas. Like Nasby they believe that "property is a crime" and applying that maxim especially to boats, they frequently attempt to punish the wrong doing by confiscation. No boat is safe in that locality unless it is locked up in the upper story of a barn at least two blocks from the water, for locks and chains are broken, ropes cut and staples drawn, everything to get possession of the coveted craft. One man became so indignant at this state of things when he found a crowd endeavoring to smash the padlock on his boat yesterday morning, that he pushed one of the roughs into the race, and when Marshal Hogan came up was brandishing a revolver, and threatening to shoot. The marshal disarmed him, and at the same time warned the boys that if they did not behave better there would be trouble.

—The Grand Lodge of Wisconsin Odd Fellows assembles at Waukesha next week Tuesday. The members of the local lodges of Odd Fellows at Waukesha are making extensive preparations for this meeting of the grand body. It is expected that between 400 and 500 delegates will be in attendance, and to provide for the accommodation of these the hotel and boarding house proprietors have been seen and prices fixed upon from which it is settled that there will be ample provision for all who may come, while the cost to them will be at a minimum rate. Quite a little interest is manifested outside the membership of the order in the visit of the members of the Grand lodge, and it is generally felt that the opportunity is an unusually good one for Waukesha to show what her capabilities are in the matter of hospitality. Grand Patriarch S. B. Konyon, of the Grand Encampment, Captain S. J. M. Putnam, Wm. H. Grove, and A. R. Wilkerson, will represent the lodges in this city. Other members of the order will probably visit the session during the week.

—Our carriage builders are taking considerable interest in the proposition to furnish the police department a patrol wagon, and each builder will submit a proposition to build the wagon. We trust the committee will report in favor of procuring the asked-for wagon, and that the common council will concur in the report. Such a wagon as is contemplated, will be of great service to the city marshal, who now does more tramping than any similar officer in the United States. He is expected to materialize at a half-dozen remote places at the same time, and realizing this fact, he is required to be on the move all the time. Last evening we happend to be in the first ward, while he was looking after an "excise law breaker," when he was informed that a drunken man was trying to create a disturbance over on South Main street, and away he went. In a few minutes, we collided with him in another section of the city, tired out, having been on the tramp since an early hour in the morning. The patrol wagon will prove a great benefit to the people who wish the immediate services of the marshal, as well as relieving that officer of many weary and, in many cases useless journeys to the outlying sections of the city. The wagon should be a good one, and the sooner it is purchased the better. All vote aye.

Personal.

—Mrs. M. V. Whitmore, of San Francisco, California, is spending a few hours in our city to-day, the guest of Mrs. J. C. Cook, of the first ward.

—This morning the Rev. E. M. McGinnity and his brother J. J. McGinnity started for Europe, where they will probably remain about three months.

—Mrs. A. H. Caldwell has a rhododindron in full bloom at her flower house, West Milwaukee street. All lovers of the beautiful flower call and see it; it is lovely.

—Mr. and Mrs. George McKey have returned to this city, after a winter spent in Philadelphia. They were accompanied by Mrs. McKey's mother, Mrs. E. P. Douglas, of Lockport, New York.

—E. A. Blanchard, T. S. Grey, J. C. Bishop, W. B. Porter, J. Lauson, C. M. Spicer, W. A. Tilden and Ed. Grove, Chicago; C. F. Richardson and George E. Mitchell, Lowell, Massachusetts; Ferd Loeb, Philadelphia; J. R. Anderson, New York; and Henry Bremer, Wausau, are at the Grand.

A New Importing House.

Janesville has frequently been accused of lack of enterprise, but with the street railway, the Evansville, cut off, and water works just ahead, a spirit of enterprise is now apparant, which promises much for the future prosperity of the Bower City. To keep pace with the times, and meet the demands of their rapidly growing trade, Messrs. Brace & Brown, the wide awake grocers on East Milwaukee street, have recently established an importing business and are now in direct communication with Yokahoma, Japan.

Their first importation includes ten chests of choice uncolored Japan tea, put up in air-tight packages of one and five pounds each, and highly decorated with Chinese pictures and hieroglyphics. This tea is cured by a new process, which removes all the dust, leaving it thoroughly clean and pure. It has been tested for quality and pronounced by tea drinkers choice in every respect. A visit to the new importing house on East Milwaukee street will remind the caller of the Orient in all its glory. The tea is known as the "Faultless," and in quality the reputation of the name is fully sustained. Try a sample package and you will be sure to want more.

AGAINST THE CITY.

The Plaintiff Awarded $300 in the Stark Case.

All On Account of a Defective Sidewalk.—Other Court Matters.

Late Saturday afternoon the testimony for the plaintiff was finished in the case of Charles H. Stark against the city. A motion for a non-suit was made but denied, and the testimony for the defendant was then begun. The witnesses examined were Anson Rogers, Marshal Hogan and James Shearer. This morning the defendant rested and the motion for non-suit was renewed but again denied. At half past eleven the jury retired and in a few minutes less than an hour they returned with a verdict of $300 for the plaintiff.

A motion for a new trial was made in the case of Addy against the city.

Judgment was ordered in the case of Prentice Call against George Ballard, D. L. Mills appearing for the defendant.

This afternoon the case of the Chicago, Milwaukee, & St. Paul company against Ezra Goodrich is on trial. The testimony for the plaintiff is now being taken, Charles Lapham one of the company's surveyors being the only witness examined at this hour.

THE CHURCHES

"Rejoicing" as Taught by Christ's Life.—Sunday Services in the Various Churches.

Last evening at the Baptist church, the Rev. M. G. Hodge, D. D., spoke upon "Rejoicing" as seen in the life and teachings of Christ. He thought that many had a wrong impression as to Christ's bearing. They say that though Jesus often wept he never laughed, not thinking his joys were much higher than ours and were such as we might not be able to conceive of; christianity itself should be a source of joy, for it is certain that though Christ had his seasons of weeping he also had seasons of unusual exultation, and it is right that Christians should also have pleasure. In the New Testament it says that they shall rejoice and be glad even in the midst of persecutions. Christ rejoiced in the whole scheme of redemption, although it included suffering and crucifixion, and that joy should also be felt by us. When one can measure the joy of the Lord which the saints are to inherit, then he can see what there is to rejoice for. But for the unconverted I have no message of good tidings. You must belong to Christ's kingdom before you can receive the blessings that are so freely bestowed.

At Court Street church the pastor delivered two excellent sermons, giving evidence of a range of thought and breadth of liberal christian freedom, in marked contrast to the teachings of many modern instructors. Mr. Peake possesses the happy faculty of portraying practical christianity from a bible standpoint, in a manner which adds to its attractiveness. That he will be appreciated by the church and people of Janesville, is evinced in his audiences.

At the First M. E. church in the morning, baptismal services were held, a very excellent sermon being preached by the pastor, the Rev. Thomas Walker. There was a good attendance at all the places of worship, owing partly to the fine weather.

Burr Robbins' Show.

A private letter from Col. Burr Robbins says that the season of 1886 opens unusually well, and that for the first time in three years the show starts out on a money making basis. The friends of Col. and Mrs. Robbins will be glad to know that the outlook is so encouraging and will join with the Gazette in wishing them continued prosperity. The route of the show for the next ten days is as follows:

Ypsilanti, Mich., May 26.
Manchester, Mich., May 27.
Tecumseh, Mich., May 28,
Blissfield, Mich., May 29.
Morenci, Mich., June 1.
Dundee, Mich., June 2.
Hudson, Mich., June 3.
Stargis, Mich., June 4.

A Cooling Beverage.

There's nothing quite so refreshing in a hot dusty day as a sparkling beverage, and there's nothing quite so cooling and sparkling as "Carter's spruce beer". Some people drink whisky in warm weather to keep them cool, but the experiment is always a failure unless the dose is large enough to tire a man out and put him to sleep. Carter's beer never makes any one tired except the manufacturer who is kept on the jump early and late to supply the demand for this popular beverage. Try a bottle.

The Weather.

At seven o'clock yesterday morning the thermometer indicated 65 degrees above zero. Cloudy with northeast wind. At 1 o'clock p. m. the register was 81 degrees above zero. Partly cloudy with north wind. For the corresponding hours last year the register was 61 and 37 degrees above zero. At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 58 degrees above zero. Clear with north wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 78 degrees above zero. Clear with north wind. For the coresponding hours one year ago the register was 64 and 89 degrees above zero.

Harmony Town Hall.

The Sunday school has been reorganized here for the season, and started off well under the supervision of Messrs. Boyd and Cannon. Last Sunday Messrs. James Sutherland and J. T. Wright addressed the people on the "Rise, progress and work of the Sunday School." On next Sunday, the 30th inst. Mr. Sutherland will deliver the first of two discourses upon the Bible and the religion which it indicates. Services commence at 3 o'clock p. m. The community is cordially invited to attend all the services.

Don't Give it up So.

"Oh! if I had only known that in time" Known what? "Known that a simple cold in the head may develop into chronic catarrh." Well, it isn't too late, for Ely's Cream Balm will cure catarrh, even after the sufferer's life has become a burden to him, and he a nuisance to his friends. It is the only radical and thoroughly scientific catarrh cure known. Not a snuff. Not a liquid. 50c.

Water Spaniels.

Mr. John D. Olcott, of Milwaukee, who has a host of friends in Janesville, has just returned from St. Louis, where he attended the bench show of the St. Louis Gun club, and captured all the prizes, eight in number, offered in the "Water Spaniel" class. In speaking of his return home, the Sentinel of this morning says:

"John D. Olcott returned on Saturday from St. Louis, where his dogs carried off all prizes in the Irish water spaniel classes, in the bench show given by the St. Louis Gun club.

"It was an elegant show," said Mr. Olcott yesterday, "and drew out a large patronage. There were 381 entries in all, and twelve entries in the water spaniel class. The celebrated King Slash, owned by C. B. Rodes, of Moberly, Mo., that won nine first prizes and championships in 1885 without a single defeat, was entered for the water spaniel prizes. Well, I met him with O'Donoghue and Storm, and the Missouri dog did not get a single prize."

Mr. Rhodes also had a fine bitch named Nora in this class of water spaniels, and expected to take the premiums, but Mr. Olcott entered Chippewa Belle and Gipsy, and the former had an easy victory over Nora. The Missouri man also entered Capt. Slash in the puppy class, but the Milwaukee man's dog Wad carried off the blue ribbon for this class. The Milwaukee dogs won every prize in the special class—that is for the best dog, best bitch, best brace, best kennel, etc.—eight special prizes in all.

"The bench show of the Wisconsin Kennel club of Milwaukee is going to be a good one," said Mr. Olcott. "It is now an assured success, as I have received promises of splendid entries from all over the country.

"LET HER RUM."

A Train That Made Seventy Miles an Hour—Almost Took His Breath.

A writer in a Philadelphia paper, in describing a ride he recently had on an engine, says, among other things:

The engine runs and does literally "hum." Zip! goes the mile-post! Sixty-three seconds! Almost a mile a minute!

Thoroughly frightened I drop my watch back to its pocket and settle myself firmly into the seat. How the engine lurches and swings! It seems a miracle that we safely pass that wicked looking curve! Stations and telegraph towers are noted only by a sudden roar as the sound is thrown back to us. The fascination has now full hold on me. Involuntarily I take the watch to time us for another mile. There is a dearth of smiles and winks from the fireman; with the perspiration streaming over his sooty face, he drives huge scoops of coal into the insatiable fire box. The steam gauge marks 135 pounds and the engine trembles with its pent up force. He is a good fireman.

Down the long straight stretch the mile post is visible only as a small white speck. It is hardly noticed before it springs past us. Fifty six seconds! A cold, clammy perspiration starts from every pore. I gaze stonily at my watch and wait for the next. Do the passengers behind us realize at what a speed we are going? One hundred feet a second!

Ridley tries the gauge cocks, adjusts the injector and then resumes his old position. He seems a part of the machine so steadily and firmly seated. Outside, the crosshead and connecting rods are marked only by steely streaks and the clock-ity clang of the joints has quickened to a continuous roar. The Conemaugh river, a hundred feet below, gives me a chill, and I turn my gaze to the blank wall on the other side. Out from the mountains into a broad level plain we fly. Seventy miles an hour. Again the watch is taken up. The regular clang of the fire door, accompanied by flashes of intense heat, shows that the fireman is not forgetting himself. He jauntily offers me a tin of water, which I refuse by a shake of the head. Fifty-two seconds! Seventy miles an hour! It is hardly possible, but the next mile confirms it. All sense of pleasure or fear is lost. I stare steadily at the track ahead and watch it fly under the pilot. My trance is at last broken by Ridley shutting off steam. The fireman scoops another tankful of water; a few curves are passed and with greatly moderated speed we dash past the Cambria iron works at Johnstown.

Johnstown.

—The past week the farmers could put in all of their time to business on the farm, having no rains or hail storms or other calamities to hinder.

—Most of the corn is planted and other small grain is looking well.

—A light frost has nipped some of the early vegetables but has done no serious damage.

—Stock is doing nicely on bountiful pastures.

—Ezra Goodrich's team is gathering cream from this neighborhood for his creamery at Milton. Not very big prices are offered at present but we all live in hopes of better prospects in the future.

—Rev. D. B. Jackson will deliver a discourse next Sabbath, May 30th, appropriate to Memorial Day at which all are invited especially the old soldiers.

—Indications are favorable for a good attendance of friends from abroad at the fellowship meeting on Wednesday, June 2d. A luncheon will be prepared by the ladies and served at the church at noon, and all the teams provided for. Rev. G. W. Nelson, of Beloit, will be present and have general charge of the services. A hearty and pressing invitation is extended to all.

—Mrs. Day gives readings at the church on Friday evening of this week.

—Mahlon Hasbrook, of western Minnesota, after an absence of twenty-five years, is visiting friends and old neighbors here. Mr. Hasbrook settled here in 1841, and now is in his 84th year. He is hale and hearty, and I think could bring down a deer at 80 rods as well as ever.

—Mrs. Fannie Loucks, of La Prairie, is visiting her old neighbors and friends here, and the latter are very numerous.

—Not many tobacco sheds going up this spring, and but little building of any kind; so the farmers have concluded to repair the fences and highways.
